A Welftl-iting Circular Skirt.

6000-There is a great demand just now skirt constructed on these lines is here Illustrated. It is one of the simplest of present-day models for home development, consisting simply of a tablier front which forms a graduated triple box pleat from waist to hem—and a circular section, the shaping of which provides for the modish flare at the hem, while fitting closely around the hips. The skirt may be made in either sweep or round length, and may be trimmed in any pre-ferred way or left entirely plain. For developing it any of the fashionable silk or wool materials may be used, 6% yards 27 inches wide being required for the medium size. 6000—Seven sizes, 20 to 32 inches waist measure. #### ICE SAW. Block of Ice Cleaved in Twain With

No Loss of Waste Ice. A West Virginia inventor provides an entirely new method for the iceman to divide large cakes of ice into small pieces. He eliminates the ax and substitutes a saw-an ice saw, which is shown in the accompanying illustration. In using this ice saw the enormous waste resulting from chopping the ice is done away with. Everybody knows what this waste amounts to, which must be paid for by groove cut by the saw. The block of ice can then be split apart easily and with but a triffing loss. The saw is used in the ordinary manner to saw into the block. The hammer above the saw is then elevated and dropped down forcibly to strike both of the knife stems. The blades are thus driven downwardly to split open the block. A projection is placed on the hammer for elevating it by
